CRNNL and CLPNNL Merging to Form NL College of Nurses

A New Era in NL Nursing Regulation

Nurses,

We so are excited to share an important and historic update with you.

The College of Registered Nurses of Newfoundland and Labrador (CRNNL) and the College of Licensed Practical Nurses of Newfoundland and Labrador (CLPNNL) have formally begun the process of merging to establish a single regulatory body: NL College of Nurses.

This merger is happening now—but will not become official until April 15, 2026.

What This Means

By coming together as the NL College of Nurses, we are creating a unified, modern regulator that will:

- Be the largest health care regulator in the province, overseeing all registered nurses and licensed practical nurses;
- Provide a more streamlined and coordinated regulatory framework;
- Maintain the highest standards of nursing practice and public protection;
- Support the profession with a stronger, unified voice.

This merger reflects years of collaboration and planning between the two Colleges, and a shared commitment to a future-focused model of nursing regulation.

Timeline to Merger

- The transition to one nursing regulator has begun and will take approximately one year. Planning, system integration, and stakeholder engagement are underway.
- April 15, 2026: The merger becomes fully official and operational. From this date forward, regulation of all nurses in Newfoundland and Labrador will fall under the NL College of Nurses.

Until then, CRNNL and CLPNNL will continue to operate separately and serve their respective registrants as usual.

What Nurses Can Expect

There will be no immediate changes to your licensure, renewal processes, or regulatory obligations.

You will continue to receive updates from your current College during the transition period.

We will ensure you are informed throughout the process.

Stay Connected

We are committed to transparency and communication every step of the way. A special episode of the College Connection Podcast has been published which outlines the information on the merger. Visit the CRNNL YouTube channel HERE.

A dedicated FAQ page is available on both websites by clicking HERE, and we'll continue sharing updates through our regular communication channels.

Follow all the social media channels of both Colleges for transition updates in the months ahead.

This is an exciting initiative for nursing regulation in Newfoundland and Labrador. Together, we are building a more integrated and responsive regulatory system—one that supports nurses and strengthens health care for all.

With appreciation,

Wanda Wadman Lynn Power

JURISPRUDENCE MATTERS

Changes coming to the Licensed Practical Nurses Act, 2005

In this edition of Jurisprudence Matters the impending changes to the Licensed Practical Nurses Act will be discussed.

In 2005, the Licensed Practical Nurses Act received Royal Assent. This means that the bill, created by the Newfoundland and Labrador (NL) government, and passed by the NL Legislature, was approved by the Crown and became law. The Act has been amended several times since then, but the date of the initial coming into force (2005) remains as part of the title.

The Licensed Practical Nurses Act, 2005, grants the authority to the College to regulate the practice of LPNs in Newfoundland and Labrador. The Act provides a definition of who is a licensed practical nurse, identifies the name of the regulatory college as the College of Licensed Practical Nurses of Newfoundland and Labrador, and outlines the structure of the governing Board of the College. To make any changes to the College's name, or the Board composition would require changes to the Act.

And there are changes coming.

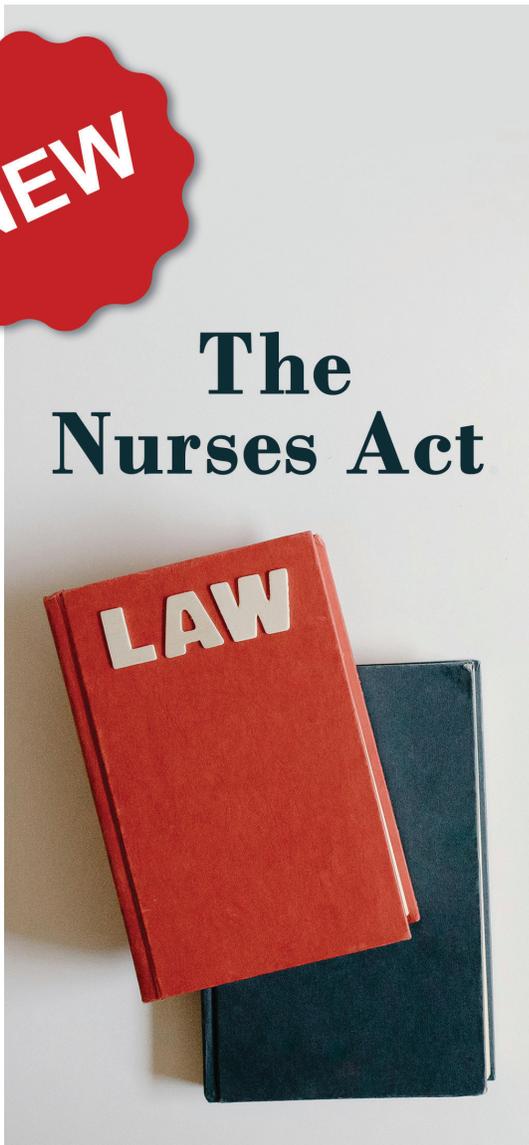

In the Fall of 2024, the NL Legislature introduced Bill 87, Nurses Act. This is the 1st step in Government's move to create a new nursing legislation and a new regulatory College. A new Nurses regulatory College will regulate the practice for licensed practical nurses, registered nurses, nurse practitioners, and a new classification of nursing professional in NL, registered psychiatric nurses.

The work of the CLPNNL will be replaced with this new regulator when the Act comes into force on April 15, 2026. So, what does this mean for LPNs? LPNs will need to become familiar with the new Nurses Act. In addition to the Act, there will be new Regulations under the Act, and eventually new By-Laws for the new nursing regulator.

The coming changes to the LPN Act and the RN Act are welcomed by both the CLPNNL and the College of Registered Nurses of Newfoundland and Labrador (CRNNL) and the benefits of one nursing regulator are noteworthy. A single nursing regulator for the province will better serve the public and strengthen all aspects of nursing regulation in Newfoundland and Labrador. This move will support quality care and safety for the public through enhanced coordination and role clarity across the nursing community. It will improve care through shared practice standards that promote consistency and interprofessional collaborative practice. And this move will leverage the benefits of combined infrastructure and services to better manage costs for registrants.

The time between now and when this new law becomes effective provides opportunity for the creation of the new Regulations required under the Act, creation of the new By-Laws, and for the dissolution of the CRNNL and the CLPNNL. In the meantime, CLPNNL's work to regulate LPNs continues. LPNs will continue to receive quality practice support, and all the member services designed to inform and support the public, stakeholders, and LPNs.

More information will be provided as it becomes available.

The CLPNNL does not provide legal advice. Jurisprudence Matters is provided for information purposes and to raise awareness and generate discussion around laws that influence or impact nursing practice. It is important to review an Act in its entirety for full definitions and expectations.

HAPPY NURSING WEEK 2025!

In 1971, the International Council of Nurses ICN designated May 12, the birthday of nursing pioneer Florence Nightingale, as International Nurses Day. In 1985, Canadian Nurses Association (CNA) members passed a resolution to begin negotiations with the federal government to have the week containing May 12 proclaimed as National Nurses Week annually. Soon after, the federal minister of health proclaimed the second week of May as National Nurses Week. In 1993, the name was changed to National Nursing Week to emphasize the profession's accomplishments as a discipline.

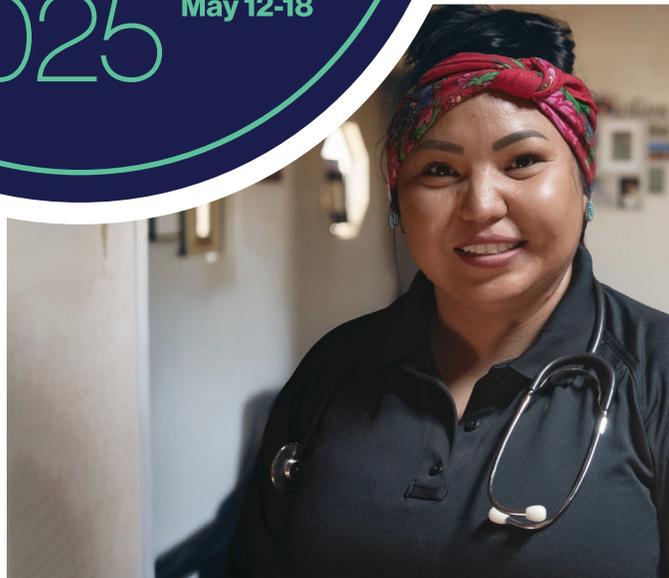

This year, National Nursing Week happens to be May 12-18, and the theme is: The Power of Nurses to Transform Health. This theme highlights the incredible impact nurses have in shaping health care, driving innovation, and advocating for patient-centred care.

The Nursing profession has been changing lives for many years; carrying out activities to serve the population. Nurses (LPNs, RNs, RPNs, NPs) adhere to their standards of practice and code of ethics, they provide care that is compassionate, safe, and ethical. Nurses act in the client's best interest and while doing so, they transform what health care looks like and they envision what health care could look like. They take this vision and transform it into motion in the best interest of the population.

CLPNNL wishes all nurses a Happy Nursing Week 2025!

REMINDER: KEEP YOUR INFORMATION UP-TO-DATE!

The name (first and last) on your documentation, and on all professional communications must reflect the name that appears on your CLPNNL licensure information. Changes to your name, employer, and address must be updated with CLPNNL.

Under the College of Licensed Practical Nurses of Newfoundland and Labrador By-Laws (2022) Section 31. Accuracy of Information, Licensees must notify the College of any change or addition to employer, address, and/or name no later than 30 days after the effective date of the change.

All change requests must be made by logging into your Alinity Member Portal via the CLPNNL website. Locate the “my profile” and follow the instructions in the portal to update, or to request changes to your information. Please note that some changes, such as name, require supporting documentation. You will be prompted to upload supporting documents if required.

It is in the interest of public safety that the name that you practice under, and the name that your license is issued under, are the same. CLPNNL issues licenses in the name that appears on your government issued identification. The “Find a Nurse” public register on the CLPNNL website lists the name in which your license is issued. This tool is used by the public, and employers, to verify that you are an LPN and that you hold a valid license to practice.

ALINITY UPDATE

This year marked the first year for online registration renewal through a program known as ALINITY. This new database helps CLPNNL manage registrant information securely and accurately. Alinity is a safe and secure database system which provides a way to obtain and retain the information CLPNNL requires to regulate LPNs. In the Alinity portal, you will find registration applications, information updates, licensure renewal, and my learning to add your CCP information. Alinity allows LPNs to access the self-serve member portal, where LPNs can update their personal information, validate existing information, and upload supporting documents when required. It's also where you retrieve your tax receipts.

Feedback from LPNs around the use of their Alinity portal has been very positive.

Save the Date

CLPNNL will hold its Annual General Meeting virtually on June 12/25. For more information on how to attend, please check the “my emails” section of your Alinity Member Portal.

Stay Informed and Stay Compliant: New Updates to the OIPC's Breach Reporting Process!

As part of a custodian's responsibilities under the Personal Health Information Act (PHIA), custodians are required to report material privacy breaches to the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (OIPC). To support custodians in this process, the OIPC has recently released an updated breach reporting form, designed to simplify and streamline reporting of a privacy breach to their office.

In addition to the updated form, the OIPC has also made available detailed guidelines that walk you through every step of completing and submitting the form. These resources ensure that custodians can meet their reporting obligations efficiently and with confidence.

View the OIPC's new resources here:

OIPC also has a new document titled "Reasonable Safeguards." This new guidance is intended to assist custodians, and public bodies understand their obligation to ensure reasonable safeguards are in place.

Quality Monitoring

CLPNNL Quality Monitoring - What to Expect

This year, CLPNNL Quality Monitoring looks different than in previous years because of the Alinity database.

LPNs, since you've already logged your 2024/25 CCP hours into the Alinity database, you will not be asked to submit or upload files related to CCP if you are selected for Quality Monitoring.

LPNs selected for Quality Monitoring will be notified by email. No action is required at this time unless the College requires additional details based on your submission. Once your file is reviewed and if the information meets the CCP requirements, you will be notified of this result by email. If the information submitted does not meet the CCP requirements, you will also be notified by email asking you to provide additional information. You will be given 30 days to complete this.

If you have questions on this, please contact Wanda Squires Practice Consultant at CLPNNL wsquires@clpnnl.ca.

Reminder: Track your LPN Practice Hours

LPNs...don't forget to keep a record of your practice hours when you practice as an LPN. CLPNNL requires you to keep a record of your practice hours for each licensing year. A reminder that our licensing year runs April 1/25 – March 31/26.

LPNs may choose to keep a written or electronic record, and some may choose to use Apps on their smart devices to maintain a record of practice hours. At licensure renewal, you will be asked to declare your hours for the year.

CLPNNL 2025/26 Directed Learning

Directed Learning is mandatory for every LPN in NL. Each year, CLPNNL's Quality Assurance committee identifies education that all LPNs are required to complete, and this education is referred to as the "directed learning".

The Directed Learning for 2025/26 is to complete the CCPNR Code of Ethics learning module. This module can be found on the CLPNNL website under the practice and policy tab or by clicking here: CCPNR: Code of Ethics. Once an LPN has completed this education, they must log it on their Learning Plan and choose "directed learning" from the activity drop down box.

The screenshot shows a video player interface for the CCPNR Code of Ethics course. On the left is a navigation menu with the CCPNR logo and the following items: MENU, CAPTIONS, RESOURCES, Introduction (checked), The Code of Ethics, Fundamental Principles, 1. LPNs Promote Optimal Health and Well-Being, Knowledge Check 1, About the Scenarios, Ethical Decision-Making, Scenario 1, and Reflection on Your Practice. The video player itself has a title bar that says "CCPNR: Code of Ethics" and a video frame showing three healthcare workers in blue scrubs. Overlaid on the video is the text "Welcome to your Code of Ethics Course!". At the bottom of the video player are standard controls: a play button, a progress bar, a refresh icon, a volume icon, and a "NEXT >" button.

Newfoundland and Labrador CCENDU Drug Alert Toxic Supply: Bromazolam

April 11, 2025

The RNC and RCMP are raising concerns about a surge in youth overdoses linked to counterfeit pharmaceuticals. The counterfeit Xanax seized was comprised of bromazolam, methamphetamine and MDMA. Bromazolam is a potent, unregulated benzodiazepine and is not approved for medical use. Mixing Bromazolam with opioids like fentanyl greatly increases the risk of overdose. Counterfeit Dilaudid also contained Protonitazine, an opioid over 20 times more potent than fentanyl, posing extreme danger even to experienced users.

Bromazolam may be found in counterfeit pills and street substances. Youth and young adults are particularly at risk due to low tolerance, lack of awareness, and inconsistent drug potency.

- Bromazolam depresses the central nervous system, slowing breathing and heart rate.
- When combined with opioids, the effects are compounded and can lead to fatal respiratory depression.
- Naloxone (Narcan) does not reverse the effects of benzodiazepines, though it still works against opioids and should always be used in the event of an overdose.

SAFER USE TIPS

1. Never use alone. Use a buddy system or have someone check on you. If using alone, consider using overdose prevention services like NORS 1-888-688-6677
2. Start Low, Go Slow – Try a very small amount first, especially with new batches or unknown pills. Bromazepam's delayed onset can make it easy to take too much.
3. Test Your Supply – If available, use drug checking services or test strips to check for the presence of benzodiazepines and opioids.
4. Carry Naloxone – Always carry naloxone and know how to use it. While it won't reverse benzodiazepines, it can save lives by reversing opioid effects during polysubstance overdoses. Call 811 for your nearest free and confidential kit.
5. Know the Signs of Overdose – Blue lips or nails, slowed or stopped breathing, inability to wake up, or limp body. Call emergency services immediately if you see these signs.

Get a Naloxone Kit by calling 811 or going to: <https://www.gov.nl.ca/hcs/naloxonekits/>
Contact NL.Naloxone.Program@easternhealth.ca if you have more information on this or possible contaminated substances.

Competency Profile Transition – Part 1

Since 2011, the Competency Profile has been CLPNNLs guidance document on the activities that LPNs may include into their scope of practice. The time has come to transition to a broader, less prescriptive way of looking at scope of practice for LPNs. This transition will take place over the next year.

The scope of practice for a profession has always been defined as the activities a person is educated, authorised, and competent to safely perform. The CLPNNL Competency Profile serves as a holding place for the extensive list of skills that students of the practical nursing program in Newfoundland and Labrador receive education and practice experience in performing. These are known as the entry-level-competencies. The Competency Profile also includes a listing of other activities that LPNs are currently performing in practice, but for which additional education and practice experience is required. These are known as post-basic competencies.

The Competency Profile document is a living document, meaning it is updated and changed as new activities are added into the curriculum for practical nursing education, or when it is known that LPNs are engaging in new activities in practice areas. And, while a listing of activities provides guidance to those who seek to understand what they can reasonably expect most LPNs to be able to safely perform, it only reflects a single point in time. Today's Competency Profile does not reflect the entry to practice activities for LPNs five years ago. Nor does it reflect what LPNs may learn in the future.

The reason that activities are added into the scope of practice for LPNs is because of a current or emerging client need for an activity, and where it is reasonable that an LPN can be educated to safely perform the activity and manage the outcomes of the activity. Moving from a list of approved activities to a decision-making framework to determine what can be approved for LPN practice allows for a proactive response to current or emerging client needs.

In the coming editions of PRACTICE the Scope of Practice decision-making framework will be further explored. In the next edition, the concepts of being educated, authorised, and competent to perform an activity will be described. Stay tuned.

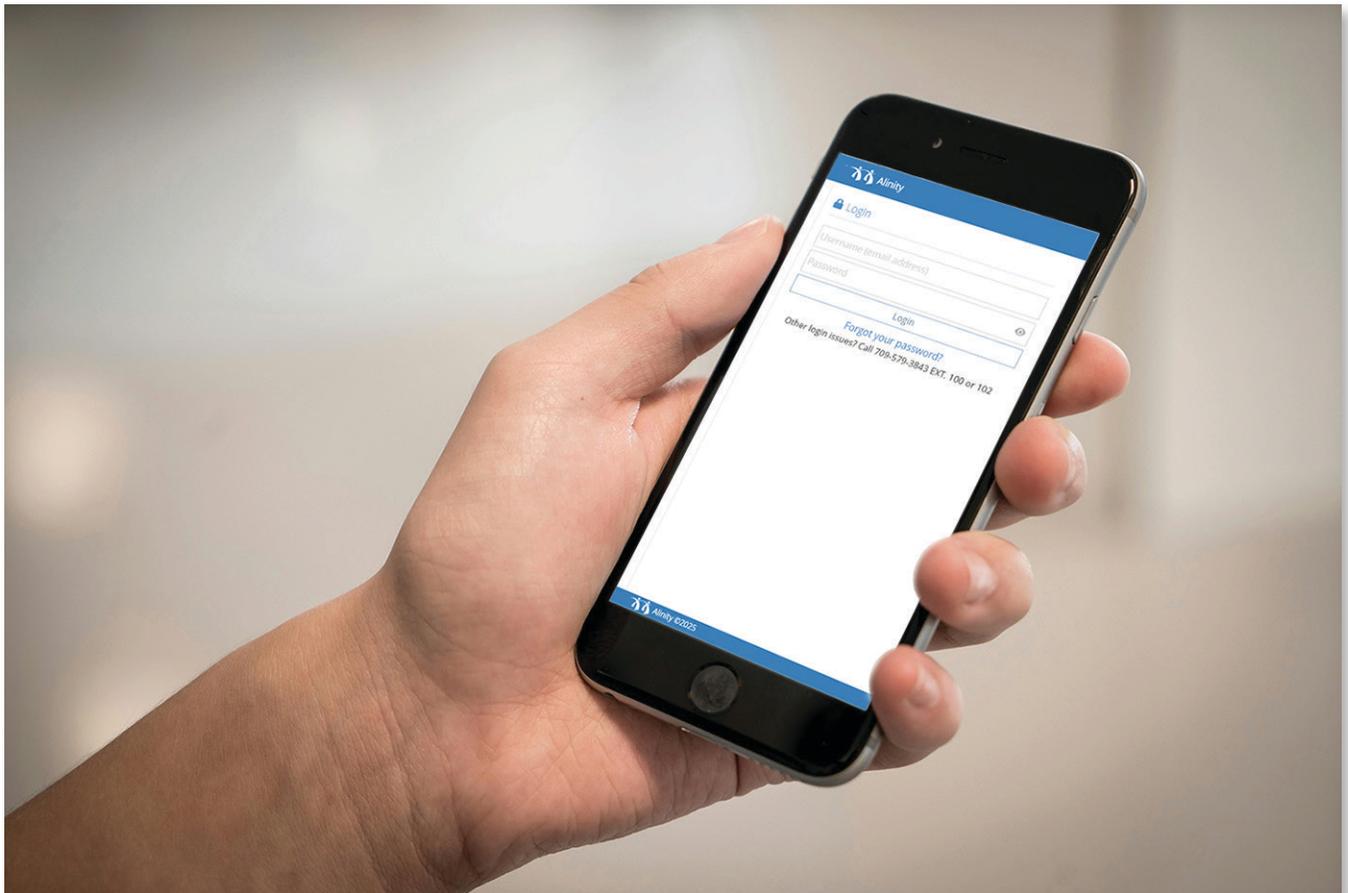

CLPNNL Professional Leadership Workshop

On April 29, 2025 CLPNNL offered a day long professional leadership workshop to LPNs. This workshop covered topics such as leadership, effective communication, making connections, scope of practice, etc. There were 86 LPNs in attendance.

If this is something that interests you, keep looking through the College website, emails, as well as our next issue of PRACTICE, as there may be another opportunity to attend an event like this in the Fall.
